Triumph Tribune : June 2012

Good evening and welcome

Once again it's been a quiet month with little for the members to get excited about, but with the weather supposedly getting better, perhaps we can get some visits organised. We also welcome three prospective members tonight-all Spitfire owners looking for help and advice.

North Yorkshire Triumph Weekend (NYTW) 2012

For 27 years the picturesque fishing village of Runswick Bay near Whitby, has come alive mid May, to host the annual NYTW. Ideally situated where the North York Moors meets the Sea, Runswick Bay caters for those who like good old fashioned seaside fun, or those wanting to escape into the wilds.

The South Yorkshire TSSC pilgrimage was again respectable, with 22 us in 5 Triumphs (and a few moderns to hold all the camping gear)! The weekend got off to somewhat of an eventful start for us (as yet, E. Yorks County Council hasn't billed us for the cost of the new road surface)! With a hasty car-swap we were off again and made good time to arrive before dusk. After everyone pitched in to help with tent erecting (thanks again Guys), we settled down to eat a hearty feast of Stew n Dumplings, Chilli n Curry and a rather delish Banoffee Pie. After chillin' out with a few beers in front of the camp fire, we all headed off to our respective tents, hoping for a bit of sun the next day.

Unfortunately, we were disappointed, waking up to find it had been raining most of the night and with lots of cars and feet around, it soon looked like quagmire (?) The guys headed off on the scenic run over the Moors, whilst the ladies headed into Whitby to stock up on fleeces and body-warmers (not painting a particularly great picture here, am I)?! In the evening we were determined to light the barbies and re-located behind the tents, where we could still make out some green grass! From there we made our way to the marquee for the live band and the real ale bar.

Sunday morning saw some attempts at de-mudding cars before they were assembled for the informal concours. Again, there was a respectable turnout of Triumphs, although unfortunately SY TSSC didn't manage any trophies this year. There was however, one period of excitement as Luke's registration plate was called- however, it turned out to be an error- and he had to settle for 2nd with Richard's in at 3rd (not that there's any competition, of course)!

Runswick 2012 will go down as "The Muddy One"- surely we must be due "The Scorcher" again soon! Only 362 days to find out!

Brodsworth Hall

For those who have booked a place for this event on the 17th, we usually all meet in the layby on the Barnsley Road on the Marr side of the motorway. May I suggest that this year we meet at 10.00am to run in convoy at approx 10.15am, in order to be located on the large green, where we can all sit together. Any comments?
